pages 4-18

Bearcub Books are expertly crafted to help emergent readers foster a love for reading! Each book features carefully leveled text paired closely with bright, captivating photos, making it easy for children to follow along and gain reading confidence. Children who are just learning how to read will adore these engaging and visually dynamic nonfiction books—created just for them!

To assist educators, each book has been carefully reviewed by a reading specialist and also includes a “Teaching Tips” section to engage readers before, during, and after reading. These simple tips check for understanding and help emergent readers establish good reading practices.

Grades 1-3

pages 19-27

Fusion Books introduce beginning readers to the wonderful world of nonfiction. A mixture of illustrations and photographic images invites readers to explore the world around them as they transition into nonfiction reading. Simple and clear text that is suitable for beginning readers introduces fun, factual, and engaging content to invoke curiosity about everyday life—from the wild and wacky to the downright gross.

Grades 2-6

pages 28-34

Bear Claw Books are a bold and graphic way to keep readers turning the pages on nonfiction content. Colorful graphic illustrations bring exciting narrative nonfiction to life while engaging backmatter materials provide further context for the shocking true tales. An excellent resource for reluctant readers or anybody who loves a good story!

Grades 2-6

pages 35-38

Create! Books go hands on with learning! Simple, step-by-step instructions and large, full-color photographs guide readers through activities and projects that engage their minds and their maker muscles. Projects specially designed with children in mind make curriculum topics approachable for all types of learners—and help them have fun along the way!

Grades 3-8

pages 39-77

Bearport Books are high-interest, visually appealing books that focus on fun and unusual topics that readers love. Trade-like design, using a combination of both photographs and illustrations, and playful titling are what distinguish us in the K-8 educational market. For over 15 years Bearport has been creating books that feel less like supplemental texts and more like the books children really want to read.

It's a Baby Flamingo!

Cheep!

A baby flamingo breaks out of its egg.

It used an egg tooth to open the shell.

What a cute chick!

What's Up With Water?

Every living thing on Earth needs water to survive. But why do we need it, where does it come from, and how do we save it? This valuable series answers these questions and more while introducing early science concepts to emergent readers. Vibrant photographs and diagrams will aid readers in learning about the water cycle, how people use water, and what that means for the environment.

We Need Water

People drink water to stay healthy.
 We use it to wash our bodies.
 Everyone needs clean water.
 Is there enough?

Glossary

barrel a large bucket to hold things garden an area where plants are grown gutter a tube along the edges of a roof used to catch and move rain

healthy well and not ill

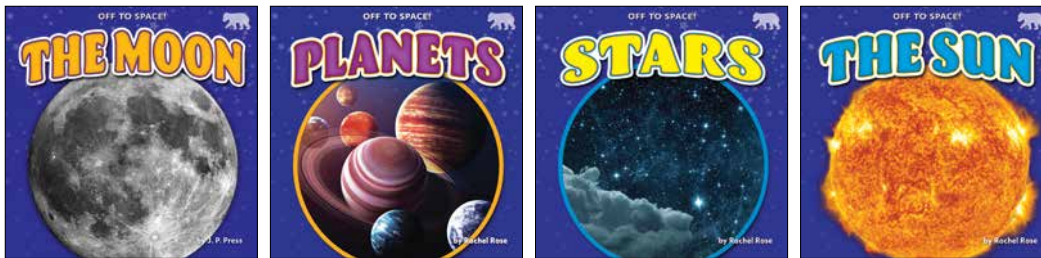

litter things that have been thrown on the ground

Off to Space!

It's Off to Space to learn about the sun, moon, planets, and stars! With concepts correlated to early science curriculum standards examined through simple text and diagrams, this series is sure to fly off the shelves. Stunning full-color photographs will guide emergent readers through space while they learn about the objects they see in the sky.

We Live on a Planet!

Our world is a big place.
It is a planet called Earth.
Earth spins in space.

After that, 12 more people walked on the moon.
Maybe you will go to the moon someday, too!

Read and Rhyme Levels 1, 2, and 3

It's time to read and rhyme! These three series introduce young readers to word families through fun and quirky rhyming stories. Each book features 6-10 words from the same word family to reinforce sound and letter combinations. The expertly crafted text uses rhyming patterns along with strong picture cues to help emergent readers get the reading practice they need.

Farmer Llama's Farm Machines

Now hiring new farmhands! Aggie, your farmer llama friend, is here to teach you everything you need to know to get the job done at Happy Valley Farm. Farmers feed the world. But with seven billion people to feed, how do they get the job done? Let Aggie be your guide as you learn the basics (the history of hay) right through to advanced lessons (just stay out of the way of the self-driving tractors . . .), and don't forget to get your llama-diploma! Cute illustrations and photographs help readers learn about different machinery and the history of farming.

Pork is cooked and sliced to make ham.

Have you had a ham pizza?

Ham and pepperoni are popular pizza toppings. However, they can be bad for us because they have lots of fat and salt added to them.

Pizza meats

Pepperoni

Try having vegetables on your pizza, too.

Rescued! Animal Escapes

When disasters strike, people aren't the only ones in danger. Tornadoes, hurricanes, fires, and more also threaten the lives of animals. In this graphic narrative nonfiction series, readers meet heroes who risk their lives to save animals—from cats and dogs to pelicans and pigs! As readers relive the dramatic events surrounding famous disasters, such as Hurricane Katrina and the Deepwater Horizon oil spill, they will witness the courageous rescue attempts that saved the lives of thousands of innocent pets and wild animals. Backmatter includes information about other devastating disasters and daring missions to save animals.

Freedom Feather CRAFT PROJECT

The Declaration of Independence would not have been written without birds! In the 1700s, people used pens made from long feathers of ducks, geese, turkeys, and other large birds. These pens were called quills.

Make your own quill pen to see how people wrote in the colonial era. It wasn't easy! Practice writing with some words from the declaration.

What You Will Need

- Large feathers (available at most craft stores)
- Scissors
- A toothpick
- Water
- A small bottle or bowl
- Food coloring
- Paper

Quills wore down quickly, but the coloring saved lots of ducks and geese. Feathers were not hard to find.

Step One

Select a large craft feather with a hollow center. With the scissors, cut the tip of the feather at a diagonal angle. Clean inside the hollow part with a toothpick. This will help the feather hold the ink for writing.

Make a diagonal cut

Step Two

Pour a small amount of water into your jar or bowl. Add a few drops of food coloring to the water.

Step Three

Dip the end of your quill pen into the dyed-water ink and begin writing! You'll have to re-dip every few letters.

Along with the declaration, Thomas Jefferson wrote 10,000 letters in his life. He dyed special geese at his farm so he would have enough good quills.

Fighting Taxes and Throwing Tea

Most colonists paid the taxes forced on them by the British until England passed the Tea Act in 1773. People in the colonies loved to drink tea—and they drank a lot of it.

A group of colonists in Boston, Massachusetts, were very angry about the new tax and decided to take action. They snuck onto British ships and dumped hundreds of crates of tea into Boston Harbor. This famous event became known as the Boston Tea Party.

Benjamin Franklin offered to pay for the tea that was destroyed with his own money if the tax law was reversed. It wasn't, so Franklin kept his money.

More than 90,000 pounds (40,820 kg) of tea was thrown into Boston Harbor. That's almost the weight of 14 elephants!

George Washington didn't support what happened in Boston.

The colonists who threw the tea dressed up as Mohawk Native Americans. This was to show they were more American than British!

Colonists cheered as tea was thrown into the harbor.

THEY WERE MAKING NOISES AND ANGRY!

The colonists referred to the event as "the destruction of the tea." It wasn't known as the Boston Tea Party until more than 50 years later.

X-treme Facts: Science

Did you know a hippo can bite a crocodile in half? Or that lightening is five times hotter than the surface of the sun? Learn these cool facts and so much more in this engaging science series. Readers will learn science curriculum in a fun and enticing way with correlated content along with fun and interesting facts. Written and designed with a sense of humor, this series is especially wonderful for reluctant readers.

Big Birds

Albatrosses are among the largest flying birds. But long wings aren't their only secret to flight. Their big bills help them, too. Long nostrils in their bills allow them to measure speed when they are flying. This helps them during their long-distance journeys.

ALBATROSSES CAN FLY ALL THE WAY AROUND THE WORLD IN AS LITTLE AS 46 DAYS!

8

Home Sweet Home

These colorful fish live in the warm, shallow waters of the Indian and Pacific oceans, where there are plenty of coral reefs. Clown fish make their homes in sea anemones (uh-NEM-uh-nee-z) on the reefs. Anemones may look like plants, but they are actually animals with long tube-shaped tentacles. Clown fish spend most of their time living among the tentacles.

An anemone

CLOWN FISH CAN'T SWIM VERY FAR OR FAST. THEY USUALLY STAY NEAR THEIR SEA ANEMONES.

The Next President

Joe Biden jogged onto the stage as the crowd cheered and clapped. The United States had voted, and the results were in. After days of counting, it was announced that Joe would be the country's next president. Joe spoke to the crowd. He promised to help build a stronger nation.

Joe won the most votes for president in United States history. A record 75 million people voted for him.

Joe's fans across the country cheer as he takes the stage.

SELECT SUPPLIES

Have you ever noticed how many of your school supplies are made of plastic? Think about the plastic-covered folders, notebooks, pencil sharpeners, and pencil cases. Plastic can be difficult to recycle, so it poses a waste problem.

There are many different types of plastic—most of them are made from petroleum, an oil. This oil is a fossil fuel, formed over millions of years from dead plants and animals. We are using oil at a faster rate than it can form, which means it is a natural resource that we risk running out of. Some plastics can be recycled by being melted and reshaped. Others can only be ground up and used for packaging. While recycling plastic is good, it isn't the perfect solution to our school supply waste work.

Since the first mass-produced plastic was invented in 1907, the material has taken over our world—and pencil cases!

What's a Waste!
 Every year, about 10 percent of the world's oil supply is used to make plastic.

PVC plastic from items such as clear folders can only be ground up and used for packaging.

Eco-Activity Fashion Upcycle

If you have a stained old T-shirt, don't toss it! Turn it into a reusable bag. This way you're solving two waste problems at a time—keeping new plastic bags out of the world and upcycling old clothes!

You will need:

- An unremovable old T-shirt without large holes
- Sharp scissors

- 1 Check with an adult to make sure it's all right to use your T-shirt for this project.
- 2 Turn the T-shirt inside out and then lay it on a flat work surface. Cut the sleeves off your T-shirt, being sure to leave behind some shoulder fabric.
- 3 Cut around the T-shirt's neck to widen the opening a little. This will be the open end of your bag. Make sure you leave 2–3 inches (5–7.5 cm) of the T-shirt's shoulder in place—these will be your bag's handles.
- 4 The bottom of your T-shirt will be the bottom of the bag. Line up the front and back of the shirt. Make a fringe along the T-shirt's bottom edge by cutting through both layers of fabric, spaced from the bottom hem. Make the strips of the fringe about 4 in (10 cm) long. Each strip should be about 1 in (2.5 cm) wide.
- 5 Match the bottom and top layers of your strips. Then, double knot each back strip to each front strip.
- 6 Starting from the left, double knot the left most strip to the strip to its right. Then tie the next strip to the strip to its right, working all the way across the bottom.
- 7 Turn the T-shirt over and repeat the process, tying each strip to the strip directly to its right.
- 8 Turn your bag right side out, so the knots are on the inside. You're done!

Eco-Disasters

Through riveting stories and first-person accounts, readers will learn about the world's worst environmental disasters. Children will uncover the truth about what caused the tragedy, the disaster's devastating toll on people and the environment, steps taken to remedy the problem, and what can be done to prevent another catastrophe from happening. Fascinating photos of the actual events, maps, and fact boxes enrich the compelling text. The personal, and often heart-breaking, stories will grip and inspire young readers.

Get ready to set sail on the greatest—and most doomed—ship ever built. In this riveting series, children will learn about all things Titanic. They will explore how the massive ship was built, get to know the Titanic's passengers and crew, and experience the terrible accident that sealed the ship's fate. Readers will also uncover spooky and mysterious tales that surround the ship. The fascinating content and large-format color images, maps, and fact boxes bring the tragic story to life.

In this frightening series, students will read nonfiction accounts of strange happenings in historical places and learn how these events are tied to tales of ghosts, poltergeists, and other unexplainable phenomena. Not for the faint of heart!

At first, John Bell saw a strange animal in the woods. The creature appeared to be stalking something. John shot at it, but the animal disappeared. Then he and his family heard scraping and loud tapping outside like the sound of huge bony hands clawing at their farmhouse. At night, the family members were terrorized as they tried to sleep. Blankets were flung off beds, and the Bell children were slapped and pinched. All the while, strange voices whispered in the dark.

It soon became clear that this was no ordinary spirit. One night, the poltergeist spoke directly to the Bells. It identified itself as "Old Kate Batts' witch." Kate was John Bell's former neighbor. The two had argued about land before she died. Kate had placed a curse on the Bell family—and promised to kill John.

One day, John came down with a mysterious illness. Kate's witch took credit for his failing health. When he died in December 1820, the witch claimed she had killed him. At his funeral, her ghostly voice echoed through the church.

The Bell Witch may have crossed paths with an American president. Andrew Jackson reportedly visited the Bell Farm to experience the haunting for himself.

The lights flicker. It's closing time at the museum. Most of the visitors have already left the building. A stuffed grizzly bear towers near an exit sign. Everything about the dead animal looks real—from its razor-sharp claws to its piercing eyes. As you walk, you find its eyes are locked on you. Could it be watching you? That's when you notice a thin, stream of saliva dripping from its fangs. The lights flicker again and switch off, blanketing the room in darkness. Suddenly, there's a deafening RRR!

In the 11 spooky museums in this book, you will explore a shrine dedicated to black magic, a collection of brains, a gallery haunted by a famous dead artist, and a building that holds the severed head of a killer, along with many other peculiar sites.

Zombie Zone

For hundreds of years, people have told stories of corpses that rise from the dead and feast on the living. Are these horrifying tales just fiction and superstition? Or could these stories from around the world contain some terrifying grain of truth? This fascinating series gives zombie fans all the information they crave. The books are packed with spine-chilling stories and cool zombie lore, as well as real-life science. Prepare to enter the Zombie Zone!
