Canada is vast.

It covers a large part of North America.

It's the second-largest country in the world!

A scenic landscape photograph showing a river flowing through a valley. In the foreground, a person wearing a red jacket and yellow waders is standing in the river, fishing with a long line. The river reflects the surrounding scenery. The middle ground is filled with trees displaying vibrant autumn colors of orange, yellow, and red. In the background, steep mountains rise, some with patches of snow and partially covered in mist or low-hanging clouds. The sky is filled with dramatic, blue and white clouds.

Even though Canada is big,
only about 35 million people live there. That's less than the population of California.
